GOV. BECKHAM.

The Youthful Successor Takes Hold With a Firm Hand.

Goebel is Dead, But Goebellism,
Thank God, Still Lives in Kentucky.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 3.—Exactly one hour after the death of Mr. Goebel, Acting Gov. J. C. W. Beckham was sworn in as Governor of the State, the oath being administered by S. J. Shackelford, Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

It had been determined to keep secret the news of the death of Gov. Goebel until Lieut. Gov. Beckham should have been formally inducted into office, and the delay was made greater by the inability of Dr. McCormack to leave the bedroom of Gov. Goebel and make the proper certificate of death. Until this had been done the Democratic attorneys were unwilling that the oath of office should be administered.

The ceremony took place in a small room on the same floor as that in which Mr. Goebel died, and but a few doors to the west of it.

Gov. Beckham's first official act was to issue the following proclamation:

To the People of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

With the profoundest sorrow I announce to the people of this Commonwealth that the work of the assassin has ended in the death of Gov. William Goebel, and that, under the Constitution and the law, upon notice of this deplorable event, I have qualified and assumed the duties of Chief Executive of the State.

In William Goebel Kentucky has lost one of her greatest and noblest sons. His high character for courage, manliness and honesty in defense of the rights of the people led to his destruction; and while yet in the vigor of his manhood he has become a martyr to their cause.

I enter upon the discharge of the duties of this high office surrounded by conditions and circumstances which would tax the wisdom of men far stronger than I. Knowing well the trying difficulties that are ahead of me, and the dangers which surround me have already compassed the destruction of civil government in the capital of the State, I hereby solemnly warn and command that all violent characters and militia of the State, now in possession of this city and the public buildings, do immediately disband, lay down their arms and return to their homes and occupations. Feeling most deeply the responsibilities and difficulties of the situation, I invoke the aid and support of all the law-abiding and law-respecting Christian people of this Commonwealth; and I promise in a legal way, if within the power of man, to restore peace, quiet and protection to all individuals, regardless of party or station, under the Constitution, which I have so solemnly sworn to obey.

Given under my hand at the city of Frankfort this, the 3d day of February, A. D. 1900.

J. C. W. BECKHAM, Governor.

Collier Promptly Bounced.

The first official action of the new Democratic Governor was the appointment of Gen. Jno. B. Castleman Adjutant General, and his last act as acting Governor was an order removing Adj. Gen. Collier and Assist. Adj. Gen. Dickson. The order was as follows:

Gov. Beckham's Order.

Executive Office State of Kentucky, Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 3, 1900.—The following Executive order is published for the information and guidance of all concerned: State of Kentucky, Executive Department, Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 3, 1900.—(Executive Order, No. 1.)—(1)—Daniel H. Collier, Adjutant General, and J. K. Dickson, Assistant Adjutant General, are hereby removed from office, to take effect immediately.

GOV. GOEBEL DEAD.

Kentucky's Great Leader A Martyr to Principles.

"Tell My Friends to Be Brave and Fearless and Loyal to the Great Common People."

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 3.—"Tell my friends to be brave and fearless, and loyal to the great common people."

With this last ringing message on his lips, William Goebel, Governor of Kentucky, died at 6:45 p. m. Saturday at Frankfort from the wound received Tuesday morning, Jan. 30 at the hand of a concealed assassin. Gov. Goebel's condition early Saturday morning seemed encouraging, but a turn for the worse soon set in and from that time until the end he sank steadily.

He was kept alive only by stimulants for several hours, in the hope that an absent brother might reach his bedside before his death. His brother Arthur, and his sister were the only ones with him at the last moment. His brother, Justus Goebel arrived about half an hour after his death.

Thus early in his public career was cut short the life of a statesman, brave and true, and with the will and ability to have made the greatest Chief Executive, Kentucky has ever known.

All Frankfort in Tears.

After hours of anxious waiting, when the silent throng without the chamber caught the first whispered message, "Gov. Goebel is dead," there was a sob, another, then another, and another, as the message sped its way until all of Frankfort was in tears. Stout men, to whose eyes a tear was well nigh unknown, wept for William Goebel, and few were those about the chamber of death who sought to hide their grief.

Judges of the highest courts, legislators, politicians, guards, who had stood their faithful watch through sleepless days and nights, women, whose gentle hands ministered to the last wants of Democracy's courageous leader; citizens, high and low joined in this sad chorus of grief as though their all had gone with Goebel.

A Martyr's Words.

Yet there rang into the ears of

The Body of the Dead Statesman Will be Buried.

Will Lie in State at Covington
To-Day and at Frankfort
To-Morrow.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 4.—The remains of Gov. Wm. Goebel will be buried in Frankfort in the cemetery overlooking the Kentucky River, where lie the remains of Daniel Boone, Vice President Richard Johnson and several Kentucky Governors, eminent jurists and soldiers.

Although the burial will take place in Frankfort, in accordance with the wishes of the friends of the dead man, the funeral services will be held in Covington, his home. The remains will be taken to Covington to-morrow on a special train, which will leave here about 6 or 7 o'clock. The train will consist of three cars, one car for the casket and the actual pall-bearers. A private car will be furnished for the relatives of the dead man, while a sleeper will be furnished for the members of the legislative committee, which has not yet been selected, Judges of the Court of Appeals and

GEN. CASTLEMAN.

Takes Charge and is organizing
A New State Guard.

Seat of Government Temporarily
Moved to Louisville to Avoid Further Assassinations.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 5.—This city is to be the seat, temporarily at least, of the Democratic State government. Gov. Beckham and several of his chief advisers reached here this morning. To-day the Democratic members of the Legislature will meet here, and it is supposed to make Louisville the headquarters of the executive and legislative branches of the State government as long as the presence of troops keeps them from Frankfort, or until the present conflict of authority in the State is settled.

Gen. Castleman, the newly appointed Adjutant General, and his leaders of prominence came yesterday, as well as a number of the Democratic members of the Legislature. Newspaper men were carefully excluded from these councils and every effort was made to keep the deliberations secret. The plan to have the Democratic members of the Legislature meet here had already been well matured. Preliminary steps in this direction had been taken at the meetings of those members held in the Capitol Hotel at Frankfort since the State buildings have been surrounded by soldiers. The Democratic legislators there adopted a concurrent resolution for adjournment to Louisville, and this fact was made known early in to-day's conference.

The General took an active part in the discussion of this phase of the plans, and it is said, ample arrangements were made to protect the members of the Democratic administration from molestation by Gov. Taylor's forces. Whether or not this is to be done through organization of another State Guard has not been made clear.

No Quorum Present.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 5.—The plans were changed to-day and the Legislature did not try to meet here. A dozen members met in Frankfort and adjourned. Blackburn, McCreary and Woodson on one side and Fairleigh, Marshall and Dan Lindsay are conferring in an attempt to bring about a peaceful solution.

CASTLEMAN AT WORK.

Decides to Organize a Battalion of Militia at Once.

Louisville Ky., Feb. 5.—Last night it was decided by Gen. Castleman to organize a battalion of what is to be known as the First Regiment. J. F. Gregory was appointed Major and will be in command of these troops. The battalion will be organized in this city and the first steps to that end were taken to-night. The adjournment of the Legislature from Frankfort to Louisville, the Democrats assert, was legal. Under section 41 of the State Constitution, they say, the General Assembly has the power, with the consent of each house, to meet at a place other than the one at which it is sitting.

The Democratic legislators to-day have been busy keeping out of the way to avoid being arrested and taken to London. About thirty of them are in Cincinnati. A few living in the western part of the State felt secure in going to their homes, while quite a number are in Louisville.

Will Probated.

The will of Mrs. Rosa N. Coleman, deceased, was probated yesterday. She bequeathed all of her property to her daughter, Bennie Coleman. The latter was named as executrix, without bond, and she qualified yesterday.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as some people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent bottles, one dollar and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail for 10c. Home of Swamp-Root, 334 North Second St., New York, N. DOUBTS REMOVED.

Legislature To Make Certain Again Elects.

Goebel and Beckham Given Titles With no Technical Falws.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 2.—The Democratic members of the legislature to-day effected a regular organization for the first time since the swearing in of Gov. Goebel. A secret session of the members of both houses was held in one of the Capital hotel, at which the election of William Goebel as governor, and J. C. W. Beckham as lieutenant-governor was reaffirmed, first in separate sessions of the house and senate and afterward in a joint session. Preceding this action, the members of the senate elected as president pro tempore Senator Carter, who was nominated for that position at yesterday's caucus. A committee of the members of the house, composed of Representatives Finn, Lafferty and Cochran, was also appointed to draw up a set of resolutions showing the condition of affairs as it exists at the State capital to-day, and covering thoroughly the Democratic side of the controversy. These resolutions will be formally presented to the next session of the Democratic members of the legislature, to be held Monday. The session, which lasted for nearly two hours, was kept as secret as possible, for fear of possible interference. No further sessions will be held until Monday, an adjournment being taken until that time, and probably no further action will be made to hold sessions in the State house.

After ratifying their former action in regard to the governorship and lieutenant-governorship, considerable discussion took place as to a plan of action to be taken in regard to the session of the legislature called by Taylor at London next Tuesday. Though none of those who attended the caucus cared to discuss the matter, it seems to be well understood among the Democratic members of the legislature that the session at London will be ignored altogether by them and that no Democrat will attend "until compelled to do so." It was practically decided that no more formal demands will be made to hold sessions of the legislature in the state house by the Democratic members in a body, who will, however, continue to hold sessions at some convenient place until the political atmosphere has cleared. This plan of action was decided on to forestall any attempt on the part of the republicans to arrest them and compel their attendance at London, which action, according to the Democratic members, has been determined on by Taylor.

It arrests are attempted, no resistance will be made by the Democrats, either to arrest or to attending the session at London should they be arrested. It was determined that all acts of violence should be avoided, and that the battle for supremacy should hereafter be fought out in the courts. Nevertheless, the situation tonight is regarded as a grave one by members of both parties, and no one is willing to forecast the result of the anticipated clash of authority between Taylor and the state courts.

Some action is expected at the session Monday in regard to offering a reward of $50,000 for the arrest and conviction of the would-be assassin of Gov. Goebel. The Democratic leaders to a man are in favor of such action, and although only a small proportion of the rank and file of the Democratic legislature have been consulted in the matter, it is considered probable that favorable action will be taken on the matter when it is brought before them in regular session.

Republican Recruits Wanted. Dr. A. F. Stanley, third assistant physician of the Western Asylum, is reported to be trying to organize a company of Republican volunteers in and about this city. The present company of State Guards is composed almost exclusively of Democrats. Up to the hour of going to press yesterday nothing had been learned of his success.

From Mrs. Vaughn to Mrs. Pinkham.

(LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 6495)

"DEAR FRIEND—Two years ago I had child-bed fever and womb trouble in its worst form. For eight months after birth of babe I was unable to sit up. Doctors treated me, but with no help. I had bearing-down pains, burning in stomach, kidney and bladder trouble, and my back was so stiff and sore, the right ovary was badly affected and everything I ate distressed me, and there was a bad discharge.

I was confined to my bed when I wrote to you for advice and followed your directions faithfully, taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Liver Pills and using the Wash, and am now able to do the most of my household. I believe I should have died if it had not been for your Compound. I hope this letter may be the result of benefitting some other suffering woman. I recommend your Compound to every one."—Mrs. MARY VAUGHN, TRIMBLE, PILLSBURY CO., KY.

some those words, like unto a martyr's, which he in the strength and the vigor of young manhood uttered only last Sabbath day upon being warned against assassination.

"If they kill me, my death will be to the Democracy of Kentucky what the blowing up of the Maine was to Cuba."

A martyr's words they were indeed; but even such a consolation could live only for a moment in the hearts of men so sore stricken.

Now that he has gone, his name will be recorded in the roll of Kentucky Democracy's saints, and had he lived longer there was promise of his taking a place among the nation, great, for the depth of William Goebel's capacity had not yet been measured.

Monument to Goebel.

Plans for the raising of funds by popular subscription for the erection of a monument to Gov. Goebel's memory are rapidly taking shape.

The Election Board.

In the event of interference this board when it meets to-day at Frankfort, would probably adjourn to meet in Louisville. If the decision of this board should be in favor of the Democratic contestants, its action would have an important bearing on the conflict between the rival Governors. About 80 of the 119 counties of the State have Democratic officials, who, the Democrats believe, would recognize the Democratic Auditor and Treasurer and would not transact business with the Republican incumbents of those offices at Frankfort. This would involve the control of the State revenues which come to the State officers through the Sheriff, the Circuit Clerks and the County Clerks. This matter affects the disposal of thousands of dollars of State funds and would bring into the already tangled state of affairs no end of new complications. The funeral of Gov. Goebel may cause some delay in the proceedings of the contest board, but a decision from it is expected before the end of the week.

Taylor Enjoined.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 5.—Judge Cantrill, of the Circuit Court Saturday granted a temporary injunction restraining Taylor from interfering with the meetings of the Legislature and from removing the seat of the Legislature to London, Ky. The temporary injunction is to remain binding till Feb. 8, when a hearing to make it permanent will be held before Judge Cantrill at Georgetown, Ky. No attempt will be made to secure personal service to the writ of injunction upon Taylor. Immediately after the issuance of the writ Judge Cantrill instructed Sheriff Suter, of Franklin county, to make no effort to prevent the order of the court. The judge directed that it be allowed to remain binding without service because of the danger threatening the man who should undertake the task and the results that might ensue owing to the excited state of the public mind.

AT THE CAPITAL.

Will Be Tried The Contests For the Minor Offices.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 5.—The contests over the high state offices will not be decided before Tuesday, when the state election commission holds its next meeting. The commission has an office in the state executive building, but on account of the bayonet quarantine the meeting cannot be held there. It is suggested that the commission meet at Bardwell as an offset to London. However, the law designates the state capital as the place of meeting.

TAYLOR'S STATEMENT

Refused To Express Himself On The Death Of The Governor.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 5.—Taylor, while in his office in the Executive building, received the news of Gov. Goebel's death. When offered the use of the wires of the Associated Press to convey to the people of the United States any statement which he might desire to make, Taylor declared that he had nothing to say and no statement of any kind to make. The messenger who brought this reply from Taylor, who declined to be seen, was asked to return to Taylor and inquire if he cared to say anything concerning the death of Gov. Goebel. The messenger returned almost immediately and made the following reply: "Here is Taylor's statement 'I deeply regret his death.'"

The Goebel monument fund is already being swelled by voluntary contributions. Any of the Democratic committeemen in this county will receive subscriptions.

WM. A. COLLIER, PAYMASTER OF THE U. S. NAVY.

One of the most responsible positions in the practical management of the United States Navy is the Paymaster's Office. Only men of great executive and clerical ability can fill such a position. Such a man is the Hon. William A. Collier, Assistant Paymaster of the United States Navy. In a recent letter of his to Dr. Hartman he says:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25, 1899. I have taken Pe-ru-na and as a pleasure in recommending it to those needing a first-class tonic, feeling assured that it will do all that is claimed for it.

Yours truly, Wm. A. Collier.

Sergeant Buck Taylor, New York City. Sergeant Buck Taylor, one of the famous Rough Riders, is a personal friend of Governor Roosevelt, of New York. He accompanied Governor Roosevelt on his great stamping tour through upper New York state. He was promoted through gallantry in the field during the late war.

The Sergeant has the following to say of Pe-ru-na: "I think there is no better medicine on earth than Pe-ru-na, for catarrh. It has cured me. It would take a volume to tell you all the good it has done me. Pe-ru-na is the best catarrh cure on earth, and I know, for I have tried nearly all of them. Respectfully, Buck P. Taylor."

Major Algernon A. Malson, of the Tenth Volunteer regiment, stationed at Mason, Ga., in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman from Washington, D. C., says: "I think there is no better medicine on earth than your Pe-ru-na for catarrh. It has surely cured me. It would take a volume to tell you all the good it has done me. Pe-ru-na is the greatest remedy ever prepared, and I think I have tried them all."

A. A. Malson. Pe-ru-na attained great popularity among the officers of the army as well as the navy during the late war with Spain. A great many letters were received from field and hospital corps, Congress, colds, influenza, a gripe and acute catarrh laid at once to the action of Pe-ru-na. No case of catarrh can entirely resist the curative virtues of Pe-ru-na, as every case is either cured or permanently benefited. Pretty Things for Breakfast Wear

Gowns and Jackets in Which the Fashionable Woman Eats Her Morning Meal.

DAINTY little house wrappers answer the purpose of breakfast gowns for the hurried housekeeper who has not the wealth of a Gould, a Vanderbilt, a Whitney, a Gory or a Belmont. But the fashionable woman of New York deems her breakfast gown or breakfast jacket of as much importance as she does her dinner or evening gown.

It was at the establishment of my little friend who makes these dainty house gowns that I got my first good idea of the magnificence and expense of these gowns. Of course I have always known that such things were worn more or less, and that the fashion journals gave elaborate directions for making them, but I had supposed that they were more for exceptional use than for everyday wear, even among the very wealthy. But my friend assured me that such was not the case, and that the wealthy women of New York wore these elaborate breakfast toilettes every day.

"If it were not for these half of my business would be gone," said she. "They are as much in demand as are the pretty little tea gowns for afternoon wear, and I believe that I make more of the breakfast gowns than I do of the latter. It was only yesterday that I received an order from Mrs. William R. Garrison for two of the gowns and a jacket that will cost over the price of an elegant evening costume. In fact she wants them made of the very choicest of materials, and of an exclusive design. That means work for my designer, who, by the way, is kept busy these winter days."

BREAKFAST JACKET OF WHITE CASHMERE.

Arranging these exclusive styles for New York's fashionable women. "Now take this one," continued my friend, as she displayed an elaborate affair of the softest of silk. "It will cost its wearer not less than $200." The gown she showed me was in color shaded from a pink to a gold and resplendent with many a gem. It was a beautiful piece of work. This was combined with a soft green silk, and an embroidery of shimmering green silk and crystals and the more vivid tones of beetle's wings that were very beautiful on the tight under sleeves which were entirely covered with the low embroidery. The hanging of the background the pale green silk lining of the hanging oversleeves. The long, loose oversleeves were trimmed with a border of the shimmering green silk and crystal.

A $200 BREAKFAST GOWN.

gown had a low-pointed yoke on the empire style, with the shimmering green silk and crystal embroidery put on in a deep point both in front and in back of the yoke, and the golden pink shaded silk hanging in long, loose folds at the back, with a slight fullness in front.

The second that she showed me was of a cream batiste trimmed with narrow pink ribbon. The back was made a princess, with a loose front of white batiste with pink with dots. It had a large two-back collar in the back and small pointed revers to the waist line.

The revers were trimmed with rich lace of pink ribbon that were carried down to the bottom of the gown on each side of the pink dotted batiste, and also around the bottom of the gown. The original sleeves were made to be worn over a shirred lace sleeve and were edged with frills of pink ribbon.

Both of these were far beyond the means of the ordinary woman, and even those with a few thousand a year would consider them too expensive, but the next one that I saw was much less expensive, although in a way quite as pretty.

It was of flowered challie trimmed with Valenciennes lace. It was made with a tight-fitting back with a round yoke in front, having a slight fullness from the yoke, and caught at the waist line with a green velvet girdle. The Valenciennes lace was in a cascade around the round yoke, and fell in a pretty cascade at one side to the bottom of the gown. The original sleeves were short, and had a full frill of the Valenciennes lace on them exposing the white arm.

One that was exceedingly startling in color was of an automobile red made in the empire style, and trimmed with dozens of yards of narrow black velvet and small gold buttons. The entire yoke was covered with rows of the black velvet, and a tight sleeve with rows of the black velvet at the bottom of the gown. It had a high standing collar and on the sleeves.

Gowns were not the only things that I saw for breakfast wear, however. There were dainty jackets as pretty as the more elaborate gowns. They were made to a great extent as I have said, and they were quite as fashionable.

One of these of white cashmere was a lovely tight-fitting affair made with deep-rounded necklines around the bottom with a frill of lace under the seal, and brought to the front in a narrow way leaving the seal, in front with the lace. It had a high collar and pointed vest of tucked white silk with a wide frill of lace around the back and to edge the pointed vest, with three large pearl buttons to fasten the jacket in front. The sleeves were of the white silk and made tight with clusters of tucks to the elbow, and a frill of the lace at the elbow.

Another that was very dainty, and quite the prettiest one of them all, was a blue challie trimmed with cream lace, and an applique insertion. It was made with a short bolero back and long-pointed ends in the front, with a slight fullness of the lace around the bottom of the neck, and the applique insertion down the front and around the long-pointed ends. Then up the front to the waist line, and down to the waist line again, thus forming the short bolero. SARAH DAVIDSON.

"I feel as if I should try to pieces." flow often those words are on a woman's lips. They express to the uttermost the nerve-racked condition of the body, which makes life a daily martyrdom.

If this condition had come suddenly, it would have been unbearable. But the transition was gradual. A little more strain each day on the nerves. A little more drain each day of the vitality. Any woman would be glad to be rid of such women have been cured by Dr. Pierce's treatment with Dr. "Favorite Prescription" when local doctors had entirely failed to cure.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no opium, cocaine or other narcotic.

Vegetarian Shows.

Vegetarians who are so strict that they do not care to wear an article of clothing into which any animal properties are introduced are entered for in the boot line by a London boot maker, who is the inventor of a vegetarian shoe. For some years he has been experimenting, and as the result he has produced a boot in the construction of which there is absolutely no paper or leather of any description. Not only this, but, according to his assertion, these wear one-fourth longer than leather shoes, and the upper material is always soft and never cracks.

"INCURABLE" HEART DISEASE SOON CURED.

During the last two or three years very great improvement has been made in the treatment of diseases of the heart. Cases formerly considered incurable now readily yield to new remedies. The well known specialist in treating heart diseases, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., of Chicago, will send $2.50 worth of his new Special Treatment free to any of our afflicted readers.

This liberal offer is for the purpose of demonstrating the unusual curative powers of his new Treatment to heart troubles, such as short breath, pain in the side, oppression in the chest, irregular pulse, palpitation, smothering spells, puffing of the ankles or dropsy.

It is the result of twenty four years of careful study, extensive research, and remarkable experience in treating the various ailments of the heart, stomach and nerves, which so often complicate each case.

The Treatment is prepared expressly for each patient, as the result is very much more certain and satisfactory.

Few physicians have confidence in their remedies. And their remedies and there is no reason why all afflicted persons should not avail themselves of this liberal offer. No death comes more suddenly than that from heart disease.

Mrs. Frank Smith, of 12 Wabash Ave., Chicago, was cured of heart dropsy, after five leading physicians had given her up. Mr. Keester, of Chicago, was cured after failure of ten able physicians.

A thousand references to and testimonials from, Bishops, Clergymen, Bankers, Farmers, and their wives will be sent free on request. These include many who have been cured after from five to fifteen physicians and professors had pronounced them "incurable." Among them are H. A. Groce, 504 Mountain St., Elgin, Ill.; Mrs. Sophie Snowberg, No. 282 21st Ave. S., Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. A. F. Colburn, Bismarck, Ia.; Mrs. M. B. Moreland, Rogers, Ohio, and the presidents of two medical colleges.

Send at once to Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., 27 State St., Chicago, Ill., for free treatment before it is too late, and please mention this paper.

DEATH OF MRS. MOREFIELD

Christian Lady Passed Away Rather Suddenly Saturday Evening.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morefield, wife of Mrs. R. C. Morefield, died rather suddenly Saturday night of kidney trouble. She had not been in the best of health for some time, but was feeling as well as usual Saturday. Late in the afternoon, however, she was taken violently ill and lived only a few hours. She was 57 years old, a native of Virginia and came to Kentucky with her husband about twenty years ago. She was a member of Locust Grove Baptist church (near Beverly) and was a pious Christian lady.

A husband and five children, four daughters and one son, besides a host of friends are left to mourn their loss.

Services were held at the residence by Rev. C. H. Nash Sunday afternoon and the interment followed at Hopewell.

Danger Signals!

Do you take cold with every change in the weather? Does your throat feel raw? And do sharp pains dart through your chest?

Don't you know these are danger signals which point to pneumonia, bronchitis, or consumption itself?

If you are ailing and have lost flesh lately, they are certainly danger signals. The question for you to decide is, "Have I the vitality to throw off these diseases?"

Don't wait to try SCOTT'S EMULSION "as a last resort." There is no remedy equal to it for fortifying the system. Prevention is easy.

Scott's Emulsion

prevents consumption and hosts of other diseases which attack the weak and those with poor blood.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is the one standard remedy for inflamed throats and lungs, for colds, bronchitis and consumption. It is a food medicine of remarkable power. A food, because it nourishes the body; and a medicine, because it corrects diseased conditions.
